PORTLAND, OREGON: WEDNESDAY, JULY 27 1881

PRICE—TEN CENTS.

THE PRESIDENT.

Fresh Fears Felt Throughout the Country.

Almost a Panic in Wall Street—The Latest Bulletins Report the President as Doing Well—Pieces of Broken Rib Extracted, etc., etc.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

[illegible] The president was somewhat restless [illegible] which had subsided [illegible] and continued until [illegible] after which it again subsided. He is now [illegible] as well as yesterday at the same hour; pulse [illegible] temperature 98.4; respiration 18.

[illegible] P.M.—The president is resting comfortably [illegible] surgeons express themselves as satisfied with his present condition. A rumor was circulated that the president had another chill this morning. Those who are thoroughly acquainted with the facts, however, deny the story and say that the president has had no chills subsequent to those which occurred previous to the incision. Dr. Agnew has been here [illegible] the morning.

[illegible] P.M.—The reports which have been telegraphed hence to-day that a serious operation was performed this forenoon for the purpose of removing a part of the president's fractured rib, are without foundation.

[illegible] P.M.—Doctors say that the president is much relieved by extraction of several slivers from the fractured rib. They still express confidence, but say that they will be more reticent hereafter on account of alleged misrepresentations in the press. [illegible] Agnew says that the president is better than when he saw him Sunday. There appears to be no real foundation for the sudden alarm all over the country to-day.

The wound has not been touched since the morning dressing and the only operation performed then was pulling out, by Dr. Bliss, with his finger, of two or three splinters of bone which clogged the passage and impeded the outflow. Surgeons do not admit that there is anything critical or dangerous in the president's condition this afternoon. On the contrary he had been fairly comfortable to-day. The discharge from the wound this morning, although not large, was not so scanty as to indicate any new complication. The patient at this hour is free from fever and resting quietly and his general condition is [illegible] yesterday.

[illegible] P.M.—The president had a comfortable day and in the opinion of [illegible] is better now than he was at this time yesterday. His temperature during the greater part of the afternoon has been normal. His pulse is not high and his general condition good. There has been no reoccurrence up to this hour of the afternoon fever.

[illegible] P.M.—The president has four well during the [illegible] this [illegible] after the morning bulletin was issued a displaced specimen of broken rib about half an inch long was removed. The track of the [illegible] at this point was dilated and a large drainage tube inserted for the purpose of facilitating the discharge of pus. Since that time he has had several [illegible] has taken more nourishment than during any of the last five days without gastric irritation and when the wound was dressed this evening the discharge of healthy pus was abundant. At noon his pulse was 100, temperature 98.4, respiration 19. At [illegible] P.M. pulse 104, temperature 100.4, respiration [illegible].

Another Operation.

WASHINGTON, July [illegible]—Another operation was performed on the president by Dr. Agnew this morning and a piece of the fractured eleventh rib, and one or two small pieces of splintered bone cut away. The operations being made through the incision cut Saturday. Unfavorable symptoms last night and this morning are said by doctors to be due to irritation by particles of bone in the wound.

Dr. Hamilton's Views.

NEW YORK, July 26.—In [illegible] interview Dr. Hamilton said that the deposit of pus which caused the recent trouble would have been opened by the attending physicians but they thought it was a responsible duty and they sent for Agnew and him. This complication is an increase of the chance of recovery [illegible] and although similar obstructions and [illegible] may ensue there is no cause for serious alarm. These pus pouches are [illegible] to occur at the [illegible] track of the wound. The special cause of this one was projection of fractured rib. The presumption seems to be from certain indications that the ball lies in the right iliac fossa or cavity between the front of the hip bone and ribs which contains small intestines. I don't think it altered the [illegible] liver, although at first it [illegible] certain that it had. Every expedient will be used to disinfect pus in the wound and render it innocuous. I still think the chances for recovery are more than equal, more especially since I have had the opportunity of seeing him. These are Dr. Hamilton's exact words. He has not so much hazarded as many [illegible] would be under the same circumstances. Stories of his weakness are groundless. He could bear half a dozen or more operations like the last which was like removing a boil. There is no evidence whatever of pyaemia.

Gen. Boynton's Views.

NEW YORK, July [illegible] that [illegible] from Gen. Boynton [illegible] the president's [illegible] that [illegible] last week at this time except the loss of strength. My confidence is still very strong.

The Land Talent among Doctors.

New York, July [illegible].—Ex-Surgeon General Hammond told a Herald reporter last night that it certainly is a great pity that the president has not had the best talent and treatment available in the country. Bliss is probably a very fair surgeon, but as to Barnes I don't think he has seen a gun shot wound since the Mexican war and as to Woodward he has probably never seen one in his life. Wales was the best man they had and he was dismissed by Bliss. The surgeons have never made search for the ball. I will say this the very first thing they ought to have done and they have never made the slightest attempt to extract the bullet. They have evidently been afraid to treat the president as they would have treated an ordinary man, and that is all wrong.

Anxiety at New York.

NEW YORK, July 26.—All sorts of alarming rumors concerning the president's condition are flying about to-day and great anxiety is felt throughout the city. Crowds around the bulletin boards are greatly increased and people have a depressed look. Associated press dispatches up to this time (2 P.M.) do not confirm discouraging reports. Dr. Hammond expresses belief that the president already has pyaemia.

Private dispatches represent the president's condition as very critical and many discouraging telegrams of this nature were received in Wall street.

Surgeons took out the semicircle drainage tube this morning and inserted a straight one into the new incision. This will allow the mouth of the wound to heal and let the [illegible] through the incision. At [illegible] o'clock Mrs. Garfield told Treasurer Gilfillan that the president was decidedly better since the morning operation and she felt very cheerful. Her debility continues and occasions uneasiness. Dr. Boynton and Mrs. Edson carefully watch her. They know that her husband is very ill and change of air and scene must precede any radical improvement in her.

Guiteau Again.

WASHINGTON, July [illegible].—Bailey writes [illegible] of Guiteau than any [illegible] says that he still says whenever he has an opportunity [illegible] that the president will die. [illegible] has restored harmony in the republican party [illegible] that his mission has been fulfilled [illegible].

Rehashing a very bulky mass of shorthand manuscript, parts of which will be written [illegible] against the trial [illegible] part of it consists of autobiographical statements by Guiteau, whose vanity has prompted him to give very full accounts of his life. He keeps his health very well though showing signs of continued imprisonment. His treatment has not been altered from the first. He is confined in a cell so placed that communication with the world is entirely shut off and keepers are under strict orders to say nothing to him beyond what is necessary. He is not at all anxious to have greater liberty. He seems to be afraid that his person is in danger and consequently can be induced to go down to the warden's office [illegible] to get better facilities for dictation lest it might be a ruse to get him into the hands of the populace.

An Interesting Bit of History.

CHICAGO, July [illegible].—Correspondence of the Cleveland Leader gives currency to a story alleged to be well authenticated, that Garfield was once before in peril of his life from assassination when a member of the electoral commission in 1876. A plot to kill him or Hoar was unearthed and a body guard escorted them to and from their houses. A hostile looking set of roughs who once made a break for them were deterred by a ready presentation of clubs and revolvers. Charles S. Draper, who after 18 years service was discharged from the position of deputy sergeant at arms of the senate, had charge of the guard and can verify the facts as can several other gentlemen. The idea of these ruffians and their prompters was that with Garfield and Hoar out of the way the democratic house would reverse the 8 to 7 character of the commission.

The First Symptom.

Tribune editorial: A point at which Senator Hoar recently made against District Attorney Corkhill's treatment of the assassin Guiteau has given a cue to sentimentalists who also in case of the president's recovery will undoubtedly endeavor to work up some sympathy for the dead beat scoundrel who crowned a worthless career with an attempt on the president's life.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Council of Indians Called.

WASHINGTON, July [illegible].—The commissioner of Indian affairs with a view of effecting friendly arrangements looking to a gradual consolidation of various Indian agencies and bringing nearer together various tribes of Indians now scattered over a vast area, has sent letters to [illegible] Omaha, Winnebago and [illegible] agency Sioux, instructing them to send three delegates from each tribe to Washington by August [illegible]. [illegible] have been received from each tribe declaring willingness to do so. The special object of the council at this time is [illegible] to the Indians in [illegible].

The Chinese Treaties Finally Ratified.

[illegible] the [illegible] ratified [illegible] between the United States and [illegible] June 16th.

Another Comet Sighted.

WASHINGTON, July [illegible].—A new comet [illegible] was seen at the naval observatory [illegible] this morning, and again this [illegible]. [illegible] of the naval observatory said [illegible] saw it last night or rather this morning. [illegible] times in which to observe it [illegible] of the [illegible] and of [illegible] In a few days [illegible] it will be visible to the naked eye [illegible] It will not go so far north as the other. We will be able to see it early in the evening in the west and early in the morning in the east. It has something of a tail which will grow more distinct. This comet is labelled as comet C, being the third comet discovered this year. The discovery by the Pole star is comet B.

Oysters to the value of £5,600,000 are said to be consumed annually in Great Britain.

GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

The New Telegraph Co.

NEW YORK, July 25.—A telegraph company [illegible] by well known capitalists in this city [illegible] It is intended that it shall include every paying point covered by Western Union. It is understood that Jas. R. Keene is [illegible] of [illegible]. The directors will include John Mackay, [illegible] Comstock lode and other well known California capitalists. Geo. D. Roberts is also largely interested in the new company. Capital will be [illegible] $10,000,000, the money it is asserted is already subscribed. Lines are to be constructed on a pure cash basis and will be furnished with all modern improvements. A meeting is to be held to-morrow by those interested.

A New Mississippi Company.

NEW YORK, July [illegible].—It is said that a company has been organized with a view of controlling freight tonnage on the Mississippi river, and 63 steamers and 100 barges have already been bought at their actual value. The purchasers claim that they can run them at a reduction of $400,000 a year in expense. James R. Keene is also said to be at the head of this company. The projectors say that they have now perfected arrangements by which grain and provisions can be shipped to Europe at little more than half the prices now ruling by rail and Atlantic ports. The company have bought all warehouses on the river, not controlled by railroad companies, and are to erect others at New Orleans and various other points.

Railroad Rumors.

MARSHALL, Texas, July 26.—It is reported that Gov. Brown has filed his resignation as vice-president of the Texas & Pacific Railroad and that it will be accepted in a short time and that he will be appointed to the position of general [illegible] of Gould's roads with headquarters at St. Louis.

A dispatch from Louisville, Texas, says that it is now asserted that Jay Gould will change the Texas line [illegible] River narrow gauge road, recently acquired by him to a broad gauge line, and extend it to Dallas. This road runs in between and parallel to the trans-continental main line of the Texas & Pacific, and when completed to Dallas will be two hundred miles long, and thus Gould's object in changing the gauge is to [illegible] him to gain more extensive control of the Texas & Pacific by threatening to construct a competing line to the Pacific coast, using the East Line and Red River road as a nucleus to be operated in harmony with the Iron Mountain.

Still another Reduction.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The trunk lines have reduced rates to Chicago to $8.50.

CHICAGO, July [illegible].—Rates from Boston here have been reduced to $5; regular fare $22.50.

A Private Meeting.

ST. LOUIS, July [illegible].—Officials of railroads did business in the state [illegible] Gov. Crittenden here to-day in a private room. Nothing transpired of their doings.

Storm near Troy, N. Y.

TROY, July 26.—A tornado swept the country north and east of this city yesterday. A train on the Boston, Hoosac Tunnel and Western railroad was thrown from the track at Hoosac Falls by a land slide. Barns and other buildings were destroyed by lightning.

A Murderer Lynched.

SANTA FE, July [illegible].—J. T. Jennings, who recently murdered a man on the Animas river to secure the latter's wife, was lynched at Tierra Amarilla, N. M., Sunday.

Railroad Completed.

DENVER, July 26.—The completion of the Denver and Rio Grande railway to Durango, 450 miles southwest of Denver, to be opened to freight and passenger traffic August 1st, will be celebrated August 4 by an excursion embracing the state officials, municipal authorities of the principal cities, representatives of the press and commercial interests of the state. This opens up the San Juan mining region which so long has been isolated.

Justice Clifford's Funeral.

PORTLAND, Me., July [illegible].—The funeral of Justice Nathan Clifford takes place Thursday at [illegible] A.M. from the first parish church. Services will be held at his late residence before the removal to the [illegible].

Children Burned.

DENVER, July [illegible].—A shocking accident at [illegible] this state occurred yesterday morning. A small house occupied by Alonzo Derrick and wife and six children accidentally took fire and burnt to the ground. The fire originated in an upper chamber where three children of a leaf [illegible] aged 11, two other boys aged 6 and 3 were sleeping. It was impossible to rescue them. They were suffocated and burnt [illegible] unrecognizable. The remains were gathered in [illegible].

Innocent Looking Barrels.

[illegible], July [illegible].—[illegible] shipment of American [illegible] Malta [illegible] barrels [illegible] a black earth and ores [illegible] but [illegible] to be [illegible] a clockwork machinery intended to be worked to explode dynamite.

Horrible Outrage and Summary Vengeance.

MEMPHIS, July 26.—Avalanche's Yazoo City, Miss., correspondent says: A rape was committed last Saturday on a young lady by a negro named Isaac Fisher. He then threw her into a cistern. It [illegible] but the water being to shallow, he still drowned the child and held her head under water until she drowned. He then tried to climb the [illegible] himself and was soon detected. The [illegible] was instantly dealt with and [illegible] this is now taking a chat with Toby Wells who was hanged here last Thursday.

A Coming Sensation.

ST. LOUIS, July 26.—Governor Crittenden, in conversation with your reporter last night, regarding the death of Judge Clifford of the supreme bench, stated that some time ago when he (Crittenden) was in Washington Judge Clifford told him that he had prepared a complete and detailed history of the proceedings of the electoral commission of which he was a member, and that it would be published after his death, unless his wife (who was custodian of the manuscript) should otherwise decide, and that its publication would create a sensation.

Whiskey.

CINCINNATI, July [illegible].—Whiskey quiet [illegible] sales [illegible] barrels finished goods on a basis of $[illegible].

Fires.

BALTIMORE, July 26.—The extensive pork packing and sufferers establishment of Edward Reese & Co., the [illegible] factory of Geo. J. Kribbs and several adjacent residences burned. Loss $100,000. Insured [illegible].

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Funeral of Dean Stanley.

LONDON, July [illegible].—Following are additional details of the Stanley funeral. Never since [illegible] has Westminster abbey presented so impressive a scene as yesterday when Dean Stanley was laid in his last resting place. The funeral took place in Henry VII chapel, by desire of her majesty. The place of sepulchre is in the south aisle of the chapel near the grave of Mrs. [illegible]. The inscription on the coffin plate was: The Very Rev. Arthur Penrhyn Stanley, second son of Rt. Rev. Edward Stanley, Bishop of Norwich, born 13th Dec. 181[illegible], died 18th of July, 1881. At the head of the coffin was a black satin cushion bearing the insignia worn by the dean, of the order of the Bath. Resting upon a black pall with a border of white silk was a wreath of immortelles sent as a tribute of grateful and affectionate remembrance by the crown princess of Germany. There were also a wreath and crosses from the prince and princess of Wales, Princess Beatrice, duchess of Edinburgh, and Prince Leopold. There were tokens of respect and affection from all countries in Europe and also beautiful wreaths from many well known Americans. A white China floral cross on purple velvet ground was sent by Americans. One beautiful offering was inscribed "Au Vaillant Pater de l'Amitie," the gift of French Protestants. The esteem in which the memory of the divine will ever be held by Americans was well expressed by Dr. Dudley, assistant bishop of Kentucky in St. Margaret's adjoining the abbey yesterday afternoon. He said he had come as a foreigner to speak words of kindly remembrance of him whom they all mourned, and who was one of the most tolerant of men of this generation. He was never even privileged to grasp his hand or to look into his eye, but he came with the sweet memory that one of the last letters that the dean ever wrote was one inviting him, a stranger, to his ever open house, and to kneel beside him in the abbey. More than that he came as an American to speak of him as one who ever labored to bring closer and closer together men and women of two nations of common lineage.

British Foreign Affairs.

LONDON, July 26.—In the debate in the commons yesterday on the government policy in the Transvaal, Gladstone showed that the peace overtures begun before the disaster to the British occurred. To have withdrawn the terms of peace which were offered before the disaster occurred, on the point of military honor, and to insist on a certain number of victims being slaughtered to expedite British defeats would have been wicked, cruel and mean. The government did everything possible to vindicate the queen's authority except shedding blood. The foreign secretary notified all British representatives abroad that the government will in future ransom no British subjects who are captured by brigands.

LONDON, July 26.—In the commons to-day Sir Charles Dilke, under foreign secretary, said that the government had reason to believe the [illegible] of Korchan unfounded.

A dispatch from Pretoria says that a [illegible] Natives [illegible] since the 25th inst.

The Land Bill.

LONDON, July 26.—Parnell will move that the [illegible] be stricken out of the land bill. The [illegible] is that it [illegible] the third reading [illegible] Parnell [illegible].

A Distinguished Attendance.

LONDON, July [illegible].—The funeral of Dean Stanley on [illegible] in the abbey were [illegible] Browning and Tyndall, Rev. Dr. [illegible], Cardinal Newman, Cyril at Manning, [illegible] Stuart, [illegible] the Bishop of [illegible] Peter [illegible] St. Albans, Gladstone and other prominent [illegible], Duke of Argyle and [illegible], Marquis of Salisbury, Lords Beth[illegible], Aberdeen and Sherbrook, Gladstone, Sir Charles Northcote, Sir [illegible], Sir Bartle Frere, Sir Robert Lighton and Baroness Burdett Coutts.

The Infernal Machines.

LONDON, July [illegible].—Speaking in the commons of the infernal machines discovered at Liverpool, Sir William Harcourt stated that each machine contained eleven cartridges, each of which was charged with nitro-glycerine and a compound similar to gun cotton. One of the supposed cement barrels had in all fourteen pounds of this dangerous explosive material in it, and it is impossible to estimate the fatal effects of even an accidental concussion upon such a mass. The government [illegible]

French Movements in Algeria.

SAINT [illegible] Algeria, July [illegible].—[illegible] troops will start [illegible] on the 4th of August to occupy certain important strategic points and chastise disaffected Arab tribes.

Spain and France.

MADRID, July [illegible].—The reply of the French diplomatic [illegible] to a Spanish note, in regard to the claims of Spanish subjects [illegible], was considered too vague on essential points. St. Hilaire promises compensation for damages [illegible] in treatment for similar cases [illegible] ing [illegible] by specifying [illegible] that [illegible] Spanish claims.

Drop in Albion.

SAN FRANCISCO, July [illegible].—[illegible] drop in Albion [illegible] is attributed to a report current in the street that Judge Rivers had rendered an opinion adverse to Albion.

The street also [illegible] to-day with rumors to account for the [illegible] in Albion stock [illegible] Judge Rivers [illegible] that the St. George [illegible] patent is invalid [illegible] others hinting at [illegible] any. Both press and private telegrams from Eureka [illegible] that [illegible] the decision of the court has leaked [illegible] and [illegible] that no one [illegible] know there is the bras[illegible].

The Richmond-Albion Decision Foreshadowed.

SAN FRANCISCO, July [illegible].—The decision in the Richmond-Albion case will be delivered at 10 o'clock to-morrow. [illegible] correspondent [illegible] to give the substance of it in advance. He [illegible] holds the St. George patent [illegible] Uncle Sam [illegible] and location and in fact every point contended for by the Albion as between the St. George patent and the Uncle Sam [illegible] among other [illegible] and title in the Richmond was a patent [illegible] was prospectively [illegible] suit between the [illegible] stronger claim and [illegible] an appeal [illegible] patent than either that of [illegible] Uncle Sam. The Victoria claim being the [illegible] surface conflict between it and the Uncle Sam. Hereon protest against [illegible] the Victoria patent was made. Victoria having got through without protest, the judge holds that it is a better title than that contested by a prior application. Stay of proceedings will be granted for thirty or sixty days to allow the case to be taken up and to prevent destruction of the estate by either party. The decision occupies thirty pages of legal cap.

The Mint Investigation.

In the investigation of mint affairs the taking of testimony was commenced to-day. [illegible] counsel for Page announced that he was ready to proceed. With reference to the charges that the adulteration of Dodge was extravagant, law [illegible] and corrupt. It was expected to prove that Dodge received bullion below [illegible] and remitted [illegible] of deductions that bullion known as Northern Belle was received from the Anglo-California bank and that it was unfit for use, thereby entailing a great loss to the government; that his attention was called to the quality of this bullion and that he neglected to remedy the evil; that his action was to the interest of depositors and caused loss to the government, that losses to the government in manipulation of silver bullion have been [illegible] and while some were prosecuted others were allowed to resign, and such facts were not reported to the proper authorities. Judge Page was sworn and testified that he had no control of the melter and refiner of the mint [illegible] receive the [illegible] the assayer determines the character of the bullion [illegible] charges. My instructions are not to receive bullion below 300 fine. These instructions were given about a year ago. Before that he took [illegible] as low as 205. The melter and refiner [illegible] did not object to receiving bullion below the standard. Depositors paid parting and refining charges [illegible] to save the government from loss as [illegible].

Railroad Schemes.

Articles of incorporation of the San J[illegible] and mountain divisions of the California Central railroad have been filed here. The roads are to run from McKittrick's pass on the state line a little south of [illegible] to the [illegible] terminus of the proposed San Francisco and Ocean Shore railroad at Santa Cruz. This is understood to be in furtherance of the scheme [illegible] in the Chicago Inter-Ocean's dispatch from Council Bluffs of July 22d to build a trunk line from Lahontan valley, Nevada, to San Francisco for the joint use of the Atlantic & Pacific, Texas Pacific and Utah Southern roads. Engineers are now making surveys all along the line.

Grain Field Fires.

The recent fires on Dr. Glenn's ranch in Colusa county, California, burned over four miles and destroyed 3000 acres of grain four miles, one [illegible] head of mules, one header and eight or ten wagons. It was started by some small boys who [illegible] fire in an old stone that stood outside of an unoccupied [illegible].

ARIZONA.

Matters at Tombstone.

TOMBSTONE, July [illegible].—In consequence of heavy rains floods of San Pedro have carried away all dams but that of the Boston mill. They will hardly get them repaired this month.

The bullion yield will be $160,000 to $200,000 short as compared with last month.

[illegible] has discharged most of the men owing to the shutting down of the mill.

[illegible] A. James, formerly superintendent of the Sierra Nevada, is now here making a survey of Contention mine.

There was a strike in the Toughnut mine last week, extent not known.

Col. Bean, superintendent of the southern division of the S. P. R. R., is here.

NEVADA.

Nevada Mining Matters.

VIRGINIA CITY, July [illegible].—[illegible] Saturday night the chest of the pressure valve of the West [illegible] pump combination shaft gave way. A new casting has been sent for from the east. The pump is running all right. The south header Sutro tunnel is now into Crown Point ground thirty feet. The ground is hard and stands without timbers.

Swallowing POISON

Spurts of disgusting mucous from the nostrils or upon the tonsils, Watery Eyes, Snuffles, Buzzing in the Ears, Deafness, Crackling sensations in the Head, Intermittent Pains over the Eyes, Fœtid Breath, Nasal Twang, Scabs in the Nostrils, and Tickling in the Throat are

SIGNS of CATARRH.

No other such loathsome, treacherous and undermining malady curses mankind. One-fifth of our Children die of diseases generated by its Infectious Poison, and one fourth of living men and women drag out miserable existences from the same cause. While asleep, the impurities in the nostrils are necessarily swallowed into the stomach and inhaled into the lungs to poison every part of the system.

Dr. Wei De Meyer's Catarrh Cure absorbs the purulent virus and kills the seeds of poison in the farthest parts of the system. It will not only relieve, but certainly cure Catarrh at any stage. It is the only remedy which in our judgment has ever yet really cured a case of Chronic Catarrh.

WEDNESDAY MORNING JULY 27, 1881.

A WORD ABOUT MONOPOLY.

The scheme set forth by Mr. Villard in his remarks at a meeting of representative men at St. Paul a few days ago is much the largest in its scope of any yet attempted in the history of railroad undertakings. It includes a through line from the great lakes to the Pacific ocean, supported by an extensive system of branches throughout Oregon, Washington, Idaho Montana, Dakota and Minnesota, and extending northward into British territory. It takes in the entire original Northern Pacific scheme and purposes to extend it till the main line and branches penetrate all parts of the vast country which can be developed by the system; it embraces all that was originally mapped for the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, with the addition of lateral lines and branches; and finally, it includes the Oregon and California Company with its Western Oregon roads and their extension to proper connection with the railway system of California and the city of San Francisco. It is a vast and comprehensive plan, and appears to be backed by a force that renders its success entirely certain. It will be seen at once that it is no visionary undertaking, as capital enough is already known to be embarked in it to put it through.

It is doubtful whether any other part of the field covered by the plans embraced in this prodigious undertaking will realize the changes and general consequences to follow in an equal degree with Oregon and Washington. No other part of the field needs this development so much, has waited so long for it or is so entirely dependent upon it. Alone of all the states and territories Oregon and Washington are still without railway communication with other parts of the country. We are the last to be brought into connection with the general railway system of the whole United States.

But in some quarters objection begins now to be made that we are to be "at the mercy of a monopoly." What have we expected? A great corporation is now at work in our midst. For twenty-five years we have waited, striven and hoped for the very work this corporation is now doing. It is a big corporation, of course. It commands enormous capital. But no small corporation could accomplish what it has undertaken. No small aggregation of capital would suffice. In the nature of things it is a monopoly too. Occupying the place it does, and carrying on operations on so vast a scale, it could not be anything else. It is a monopoly because nobody else is likely to raise or combine one hundred millions of money for competition with it; and if such a thing could be done, then neither undertaking could be made to pay any return on investments so great. But people who consider the whole situation are not going to permit themselves to be worried by this bugbear of monopoly. It may be supposed that they foresaw the whole situation when they were so anxious to have the great undertakings which this corporation now has in hand begun and pushed through. If there be any who did not foresee it, they were singularly blind to most obvious consequences. There would seem to be little propriety in having waited and labored so long for this very work, to turn about now and begin to distress ourselves with anticipations of dire consequences from it.

"PROTECTION," AND DIVISION OF THE BOOTY.

Again, by its platform in Ohio the democratic party has shown that it has no principle which it will not readily sacrifice to the supposed emergencies of local politics. Certain manufactures now flourish in that state under the system which robs consumers there and elsewhere; and now the democratic party in Ohio comes out with a resolution for a "tariff for revenue levied and adjusted in its details with a view to equity in the public burdens and the encouragement of productive industries without creating monopolies." This is flatly contradictory, but in effect is as thoroughly on the side of extreme protection as the most pampered protectionist could desire. This incident is valuable as showing once more that the democratic party, though it makes profession in certain localities of adherence to the principles of free commercial intercourse, nevertheless can't be depended on to support the interests of the people against the "protected" monopolists.

An incident by the way. We learn from the organs of this species of national robbery that a quarrel is brewing between the beneficiaries of it. The pig-iron men complain that the Bessemer steel men, instead of buying American pig, import the metal from England because they can get the English article cheaper, and for the additional purpose (it is said) of breaking the home market. To meet this the pig-iron men threaten retaliation by moving to reduce or repeal the duty on steel rails. This quarrel alarms the organs of protected robbery, since it threatens, as the Bulletin of the American iron association puts it, "a division in our ranks on the tariff question."

By and by, either through a quarrel among the beneficiaries of "protection" over division of the spoils, or through general enlightenment of the public, this whole matter will be forced to re-adjustment. Politicians, however, are too cowardly to deal with it. Members of congress agree that the principle of free exchange of commodities is the true one for the country, but each member has a job of "protection" for some special industry in his own district. So all band together and put up the system that robs the public for the benefit of the protected monopolists of the common pool. If now the class who are authorized by law to tax the industry and wealth of the people and put the money in their own pockets should begin to quarrel over the division of the spoil, then the general public might be exempt for a while from their exactions. While highwaymen are fighting each other upon a disagreement as to how the booty they expect to take shall be shared, travelers have a chance to pass on without molestation.

THE GOVERNMENT DEBT.

According to census reports our government debt is not so widely distributed among the people as many had supposed. From the investigations of the special agent of the bureau designated for this service, it is ascertained that out of $644,900,400 registered bonds the sum of $410,279,400 is held in amounts of over $50,000, and only $7,555,900 in amounts of less than $500. It is also shown that the distribution of the amounts less than $500 is among 25,613 persons only, while the still more striking fact appears that the large amount above stated is held by only 1529 rich men and corporations. This fact is spoken of by Bradstreet's and other journals as "startling" and as a "matter for reflection." The intimation is, that if the repudiationists shall ever make any headway in this country, they will find a strong basis for appealing to popular passions and prejudices in the fact that the great bulk of the debt is held by a comparatively small number of wealthy men and corporations. But we are disposed to believe with the Chicago Trib. une that any such apprehension is entirely unfounded. For on reflection it will appear quite natural that a government loan bearing 3½ and 4 per cent. interest should drift into the hands of a few capitalists, since the rate of interest is too low to attract popular and permanent investment among an enterprising people and in a country full of opportunities for more profitable investments. This state of facts indicates no hostility on the part of the people to the debt, nor furnishes ground for any. The debt is being paid off and will continue to be paid off so rapidly, and with such small burden to the people that there seems little probability that it will ever excite popular antagonism. The public debt is now only about one-half what it was at the close of the war. It is the opinion of ex-Secretary McCulloch that the actual debt, including obligations and contracts which were subsequently liquidated out of the treasury funds without going into bonds, was at one time not less than $4,000,000,000. It is now only $2,000,000,000. But the burden of the debt has been decreased in still greater proportion. In 1865 about 33 millions of people were paying something like $150,000,000 annually for interest on the public debt; to-day about 52 millions are paying only $64,000,000 of interest. In other words, at the close of the war, the interest charge amounted to about $4 50 per capita, while it now amounts to only $1 20 per capita. The debt itself has been reduced one-half, and the burden of carrying it has been reduced nearly three-quarters within sixteen years. Such a showing is the strongest possible argument against future trouble. It accounts for the present unparalleled credit of the government and the universal confidence of money-lenders all the world over. Besides though the American debt be not in the shape of a popular loan, it is rapidly assuming the shape of a native loan, and in the latter respect appeals to the selfish interest as well as the patriotism of the American people. Repudiation therefore is one of the dangers that have been left behind in the progress of free government on the American continent.

PROHIBITION IN KANSAS.

At the request of a reader of THE OREGONIAN we print a letter recently written by the governor of Kansas, in which it is shown that the prohibitory law is well observed and enforced in that state, except in the towns and cities. That is, in the rural districts where there is no intoxicating liquor, no appetite for it, and consequently no need of a prohibitory law, prohibition works well. Temperance is the rule through all our rural districts, as the rural classes are little addicted to any form of dissipation or excess. They pursue their regular employments, go to bed at nightfall, have no place to assemble for carousal even if they were so disposed, and keep their boys at home and at work. With or without a prohibitory law such a people let intoxicating liquors alone. But in the towns and cities—that is, in localities where population is massed and where consequently there is opportunity for association; where there are large numbers who don't work hard enough to get that weariness which would send them to bed at nightfall, and who therefore seek amusement, though the amusement be of low order; where drinking saloons are called into existence by the demand of large classes for places at which they may meet their fellows and have what they absurdly call "a good time," there prohibition fails. The class of population that chiefly supports drinking saloons in the towns and cities is moreover being constantly recruited from all quarters. Large numbers are steadily flocking in from the country, embracing all that sort who dislike the monotony of country life, have about them a touch of indolence and loaferism and would like to live with the least possible exertion and labor. Again, the want of steady employment for boys born and bred in the towns and cities still further recruits the ranks of those who fall into lives of idleness and dissipation. Then again, a large class of business men, under constant worry and strain, foolishly fall into the habit of taking daily stimulants. The ridiculous custom of "treating" also increases the demand for liquors, and of course the means of supply. From all these and other causes we have a state of things that calls drinking saloons into existence and supports them. But it is only in the towns and cities that this state of things prevails. In the rural districts all the conditions are absent. The trouble is not to enforce a prohibitory law among those who do not want to drink, but among those who do. The letter of the governor of Kansas confirms and sustains, in a striking manner, the position taken by THE OREGONIAN on the subject. He simply shows that there is no trouble whatever in enforcing prohibition except among those who want to drink. The conclusion is that wherever there is a demand for liquors that demand will be supplied; and we are thrown back once more on the fact that the only way to check the liquor traffic is to diminish the demand.

A VALUABLE BOOK.

A new book on the commerce and industries of the Pacific Coast is in preparation and will be published by A. L. Bancroft & Co., San Francisco. In a volume of about 800 broad pages will be comprised a statement of "the rise, progress, products, present condition and prospects of the useful arts on the western side of our continent, and some account of its resources, with elaborate treatment of manufactures, consideration of commerce, transportation and mining, and mention of leading establishments and prominent men in various departments of business." The work is under the editorship of John S. Hittell, long known for skill and ability as a statistical, descriptive and economic writer. Some of the advance sheets (subject to revision) are before us. They show that the work has a scope never before attempted on the Pacific slope. It is not to be a directory, but an exhaustive review of the commerce and industries of our Pacific states and territories. A general introduction gives a survey of the field. Then follows the body of the work in six principal divisions, namely, commerce, agriculture, mining, fisheries, engineering and manufactures. Under the division commerce we have chapters on banking, insurance, railroads, shipping, telegraphs, expressing, merchandising, hotels, etc. Under the division agriculture there are chapters devoted to cereals, horticulture, domestic animals and agricultural miscellany; under the division manufactures, printing, wood working, iron manufacture, lead products, gold and silverware, mineral miscellany, textile fabrics, leather and leather products, provisions, architecture, pottery and various products, and so on. This enumeration will sufficiently indicate the range of the work. It is intended to make it complete for all the Pacific states and territories. Already the work is well advanced. Many writers are in the field collecting information by original research and otherwise, to make it complete. Messrs. Ira G. Hoitt and W. B. Bancroft are now in Oregon for this purpose. It is the intention to do full justice to our state, and also to the territory of Washington. For a week past they have been engaged in collection of information concerning the fisheries, lumber, shipping, and the general industries and commerce of the lower Columbia river. At present they are in Portland, prosecuting their inquiries. Information is desired from all sources and concerning all industries. It is expected that the book will be ready by January next. The undertaking is specially commended by the chamber of commerce of San Francisco and by representative men in leading lines of business. From the sheets before us we do not hesitate to say that the book will be a highly useful and valuable one.

In the course of a sermon on the attempted assassination of the president, Dr. Porter, a noted clergyman of Easton, Pa., said: "Every day seeds are sown, words spoken and applauded which lead men to just such crimes as that before us. No less a person than Wendell Phillips, in no less important a place than Harvard college, recently, in the presence of a host of people who applauded to the echo, said it is right to kill kings and sovereigns: Nihilism in Russia was just, and the people had a right to kill czars."

There is dissension in the democratic party of Mississippi. United States Senator Lamar, who is a candidate for re-election, has incurred the opposition of the more intense wing of the Bourbon Yankee-haters in the state, and the fight has begun. Among his Bourbon opponents are Barksdale, who approved of the assassination of Dixon at Yazoo, and who wants to be governor, and Fort Pillow Chalmers who aspires to the United States senate.

There was a scare yesterday throughout the country about the president's condition. Great alarm was produced by rumors from Washington, which, though indefinite and conflicting, seemed to have some foundation. In the sensitive and sympathetic state of public feeling these reports naturally arrest attention. That they so readily obtained credit is due to a real dread of impending danger that widely exists. Bulletins from the president's physicians hardly sufficed to allay the public apprehension. Though these bulletins are not unfavorable, still there is a fear that the president can not hold out, as he must be growing weaker day by day. An aggravated symptom is therefore just cause for real alarm.

Domestic silk culture is a new phase of the "æsthetic" craze among women of leisure and fashion. Art decoration is to give way to nurture of silk worms. A book of instruction is already in press, and a New York novelty merchant has ordered a large invoice of cocoons, so that the æsthetics may raise their own silk dresses.

ONE DOLLAR.

In addition to the usual class of goods kept there, there will be an array of costly articles, such as Heavy Gros Grain Black Silk Dresses, full twenty yards, worth 100 Dollars, to be sold for

ONE DOLLAR.

Gentlemen's heavy Gold Hunting Case Watches, full 18 karat, worth 125 Dollars, for

ONE DOLLAR.

Elegant fine French Bronze Clock, sets three pieces, worth 150 Dollars, for

ONE DOLLAR.

And thousands of articles, worth from a Dollar to One Hundred and Fifty Dollars, to be sold at the uniform price of

ONE DOLLAR.

The idea originates from the grand Magazine D'Espagne, in Paris, who are carrying it out now with the greatest success and satisfaction to the public. The method having been thoroughly explained to our Mr. J. H. Ackerman, who has just returned from Paris, and is now already on his way to New York to arrange for the similar method in all the principal cities of the Union.

The Daily Oregonian.

WEDNESDAY MORNING JULY 27, 1881.

OREGONIAN AT THE BEACHES.—Parties can have THE DAILY OREGONIAN sent to them at any of the seaside resorts, at $1 per month, on leaving their address at the business office of this paper.

OREGONIAN AT ASTORIA.—Extra copies of the DAILY at E. C. Holden's, for the accommodation of visitors.

CITY.

BOLD BURGLARY.—Some time during Monday night a bold burglary was perpetrated at Harrisburg. As usual in such cases, the thief got away with the booty and escaped detection. Dennis Sullivan, who is employed by the Oregon and California Railroad Company, retired to his bed Monday evening at one of the hotels in Harrisburg. During the night a thief entered the room, and without disturbing the slumbers of Sullivan carried away his pants in one pocket of which was the neat little sum of $260 in coin. When Sullivan awoke yesterday morning he found himself minus both trousers and his hard-earned money. Sullivan declares that that thief is the hardest case he ever saw. There is not the slightest clue of the perpetrator.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.—Yesterday the committee on streets and public property awarded contracts for the improvement of certain streets as follows: South First street, from Woods street to the line of the city, to P. G. Baker for $228 52; C street from First to second, to James Johnston for $62 55; North Eighteenth from G to L streets, to William Sweeney, the whole contract for $1505 52. All these improvements will be put through without delay.

STEAMER GEN. GARFIELD.—The Astorian of Tuesday says: "The new steamer which was built at Rainier for P. E. Bellingham, and which is now here being fitted by the Astoria iron works to go to Shoalwater bay, where she is to be employed, is a very creditable piece of work, and her builders, Messrs. Johnson Brothers, may certainly feel proud of their work. We understand that she will be named Gen. Garfield.

THE NARROW GAUGE LEASE.—Mr. R. M. Cochrane, director of the Oregonian R. R. Co. and the Oregon and Washington savings bank, informs us that he has advices that Mr. Villard's agent has left Dundee for New York, after informing the land agent of the Scotch company (Mr. Thornton) by letter that the lease of the Oregonian Railway might now be said to be complete. The lease, we understand, runs for 99 years.

Y. M. C. A. HALL.—Gospel meeting this evening. All are invited, especially strangers. These meetings as well as those of Sunday afternoons, both preceded by services on the street, have been held without interruption for several years, and many instances are known where first religious impressions were here received.

VERY WARM.—Hon. Thos. A. Davis returned Monday from Umatilla county, where he had been spending a few days on his extensive ranch. Mr. Davis reports very hot weather east of the mountains. At Umatilla landing last Sunday afternoon the mercury rose to 115 in the shade.

PRISONERS EN ROUTE.—Two United States prisoners will leave this morning on the outgoing steamer, bound for Fort Alcatraz, where they will serve out terms of confinement. These prisoners are in custody of Lieut. Robertson.

INSANE PATIENT.—An insane man named R. Case arrived here last evening from Walla Walla in charge of Deputy Sheriff Fred Thompson. Officer and prisoner will leave here this morning en route to Steilacoom.

HOUSE ENTERED.—Monday night the house of Henry Wilmer, situated at the corner of Seventeenth and E streets, was entered by a burglar. The only articles missed were a clock and guitar. No clue.

FOOT CRUSHED.—Monday, Bert Thomas, a brakeman on the O. & C. R. R. Co.'s trains, had his foot severely crushed at Roseburg. He will be laid up for several weeks.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—Judge Deady will announce a decision in this court this morning in the case of Bachert vs Miller.

APPOINTED.—Gov. Thayer has appointed Mr. P. L. Willis of this city, a notary public.

John Lynch, roaming about the streets at all hours of the night without any business, $10.

Chas Johnson, disorderly by fighting, $20.

Ah Ye, larceny of two monkey wrenches, $30.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Ira. F. P. were is now closing out his elegant furniture. Bargains can be obtained.

Mr. I. H. Ackerman, of H. Ackerman & Co., who arrived on the last Elder direct from Europe, left again on the California. He goes directly east and we hear he is to introduce novel changes in the dollar store business in all principal cities in the union.

Wonderful things are to be done at Ackerman's Dollar store. A great number of valuable articles, worth as much as $150, will be sold for the amazing low price of $1. The public wonder how in the world this can be done. Just read what they have to say in another column. The whole proposition is explained.

AUCTION SALES.

Gilman & Co. will sell today at their stand a lot of horses, wagons, and harness.

A. B. Richardson will hold his regular auction sale this morning at Nathan's auction house.

THE FAVORITES BEATEN.

DEXTER WINS THE TROT AND HEENAN THE RUNNING RACE.

The First Day's Sport at City View Driving Park—An Error gives the Spectators Two Running Races.

When it is considered that four months ago Portland had no association to promote trials of speed; that such an organization was formed on a sound financial basis, that a track was secured; that purses in bright gold coin were offered; that the thousand and one little details had received proper attention; and that successful races have already been inaugurated, we must compliment the officers, trustees and members of the Northwestern District Agricultural Association on their first meeting, which was begun at City View farm yesterday. It was an unequivocal success. The attendance was gratifying, not only in point of numbers, but in the character of visitors. The grand stand was graced with representatives of the best families of the city—ladies and gentlemen who have not been seen at races for years. The promise by the managers that lady visitors would not be annoyed or embarrassed by the presence of objectionable characters was kept in the letter and spirit.

The track for trotting was nearly perfect, for running the least bit too hard. It was not dusty and horses on any part of the track were plainly visible by all in the amphitheater and judges stand. The time made in the running race demonstrates what was claimed for the track—that it is the fastest in the State. Five-eighths of a mile in 1:03 has never before been scored in Oregon or Washington. The fastest time on record for that distance is 1:01¼, made by Jennie Wood at Saratoga, July 21, 1878. Accommodations for transportation were very good, with the exception of one or two inconvenient features as good as can be made. The Willamette Chief and the barge Governor Grover can easily carry 1200 or 1500 persons without overcrowding. Benches and chairs are provided on the barge and jostling usually attending excursions is avoided. Pool selling was lively before every heat.

Both races were hotly contested, as is the case when favorites are beaten, and [illegible] exciting. It is unfortunate that [illegible] Winters and Merritt mistook the starting signal, which in all likelihood lost the race for one or the other of them.

Messrs. Levi Knott, E. J. Jeffery and Ira A. Cardwell were the judges, and did their duty in an honest and efficient manner. [illegible] Green-berg and [illegible] Buchtel were time keepers.

The Trot.

Positions were drawn as follows: Kelly 1, Medium 2, Goldfoil 3, Startle 4, Dexter 5. After eight false starts, the horses got off in fair style, Dexter having the advantage of nearly a length. Medium stepped to the front before the turn was reached. Just beyond the turn Startle broke badly, and Dexter followed his example. The first quarter was reached by Medium in 39½, Dexter three lengths in the rear, Kelly following closely, the two others far behind. At the half, made in 1:17½, Startle overtook Kelly and Goldfoil. At the three-quarters, Medium led Dexter by four and Startle by eight lengths, the remaining two hopelessly struggling to save their distance. On the home stretch Dexter made a spurt, and Startle steadily gained. The heat was won by Medium in 2:31½, Dexter a good 2d, Startle 3d, Kelly and Goldfoil distanced.

THE SECOND HEAT.

Pools for comparatively large amounts sold rapidly, several prominent capitalists, strangers for several years past, at pool boxes, buying. The horses sold in the following proportions: Medium $50, Startle $15, Dexter $15. The heat was a fair start and a splendid race. Medium took the lead at the turn and held it to the home stretch. At the three quarters, Dexter made three or four skips for which Goldsmith Maid is famous when closely pressed, and on entering the stretch overtook Medium. A blanket would have covered both for the last eighth. Though urged with the whip Medium could not respond, and Dexter took the heat by half a length, Startle a good third. Time by quarters, 37½, 1:15, 1:52, 2:30. Before the

THIRD HEAT

Pools sold as follows: Medium $20, Dexter $20, Startle $8 to $10. After an even start Medium behaved badly, allowing Dexter and Startle in the order named to pass him, in which position they passed the quarter. In the third quarter, Medium putting in splendid strides, overtook Startle, who had left his feet. Dexter won in a jog in 2:35, leading Medium three lengths, Startle a bad third.

THE FOURTH HEAT.

Pools sold, Dexter $25 to $35, Medium $10 to $12; Startle $5 to $6. Between Dexter and Medium the race was a nice, honest, clean, square trot from the start to the finish. The horses were neck and neck to the quarter, Dexter gaining towards the half which he made in 1:14, leading by a length. This distance he gradually increased to three lengths at the finish, winning the heat and the race at a jog in 2:32½, Startle saving his distance.

SUMMARY.

Dexter	2	1	1	1
Medium	1	2	2	2
Startle	3	3	3	3
Kelly	dist'nd
Goldfoil	dist'nd

Time, 2:31½, 2:33, 2:35, 2:32½.

The Running Race.

Five-eighths of a mile, free for all, was looked forward to with much interest and a general rustle of excitement was provoked by the appearance of the runners. Neva Winters was favorite in the pools, selling $45 on her to $20 on Merritt, $10 on Mayflower, $10 on Screwdriver, and $6 to $4 on Heenan and Musgrove. Merritt won the pole, Winters 2d, Mayflower 3d, Heenan 4th, Musgrove 5th, and Screwdriver outside.

The start, which was made nearly opposite the grand stand, was anything but satisfactory. The different horses could not be distinguished at that distance, and half an hour was consumed before they were sent off. The dropping of a white flag was the signal to the judges and the drivers that a start had been made. A red flag was also to be dropped for the guidance of time keepers. Finally when the horses came up well together, the red flag was dropped by accident, and the riders of Jim Merritt and Neva Winters mistaking it for the signal to be off, urged their horses forward. The remaining drivers pulled up before they had proceeded a hundred yards. The race between Merritt and Winters could not have been prettier. They were neck and neck at the start, and for half the distance run, only one horse could be seen. At the turn the mare without urging took a slight lead and held it, Merritt's nose all the time at her side. Neva passed under the string four feet ahead of the colt in 1:03¼. But it was no race, and the horses were called back. Winters' friends, and she had a large number on the ground, were much chagrined at the error, and had no strong hopes that she would be able to win again. After more tiresome jockeying, which is in a measure excusable in such short races, the starter, R. E. Bybee, got them off in a bunch. Heenan took the lead, closely followed by Screwdriver, Musgrove a length or two behind, Mayflower at his heels, Merritt and Winters bringing up the rear. These positions were maintained to the finish except that Mayflower passed Musgrove. Heenan won by two lengths amid much excitement in 1:05.

The 2:50 trot was declared off by the judges because the race was not filled. L. B. Lindsey, driver of Western Chief, protested against Geo. W. Leihy being allowed to trot two horses, St. Elmo and Billy Barlow, and Lindsey forfeiting entrance money refused to trot Western Chief. Leihy, however, informed the judges that he intended that the race should go on, and that he would claim the purse offered. So the two horses were driven around the track while the crowd moved to the boats.

Pertinent Suggestions.

Whoever has charge of the Willamette Chief's movement, should provide two gang planks, instead of one. The crowd could thus get aboard in just half the time, and no additional expense would be entailed.

The marshal should not allow crowds to assemble on the track in front of the judges' stand after every heat. The management intend to conduct these meetings as they are conducted in the east, and this feature of country races should be abolished.

The judges when they issue an order, or make a request, should see that such order or request is complied with promptly, and they should allow no "back talk." There is no reason why the standard of dignity should not be raised.

Notes.

Pools are sold at Henry Prang's every evening for races the following day, and also cashed there for the day's races.

The track was again sprinkled last night, which will put it in good condition. It costs over $100 each time the track is wet down.

The Willamette Chief will leave at 11:30 A. M., and 1 P. M., to-day for the park. She will leave in half an hour after the last race is over. She will give three whistles, fifteen minutes afterward two whistles, and five minutes before leaving, a short toot.

The pretty judges' stand is the subject of much favorable comment.

Patsy Duffy rode the winning horse in the dash.

AMUSEMENTS.

CHILD OF THE REGIMENT.—Donizetti's favorite opera "Daughter of the Regiment," was presented last evening at New Market Theater on the occasion of the opening of the new season by the Lester English Opera Company. The audience was large, fashionable and discriminating. The leading role of the opera was sustained by Miss Louise Lester. The praise bestowed on the acting and singing of this lady was fully justified by last evening's performance. Miss Lester's vocal and histrionic efforts formed a very agreeable contrast to the singing and acting of the other members of the company. Miss Lester has a very flexible and well cultivated voice, sympathetic and of good compass. She handled the several scores with skill and artistic effect, and invested the role with much feeling and interest, although at times she showed a slight lack of power. Some of the scenes were given with dash and spirit, and called forth enthusiastic applause. Mr. E. M. Knight who assumed the important part of Sulpizio, the old French sergeant, was scarcely up to the exacting requirements of the role. At times his singing was passable, but certainly not up to the desired public standard. The tenor of the company, Mr. [illegible], showed himself inadequate to the part of Tonio, the lover of Marie, both in vocal powers and acting. [illegible] gave the tenor very little [illegible] to render in this opera, but Mr. [illegible] used that little to very poor advantage. [illegible] before a Portland [illegible] was perhaps sufficient [illegible]. The introduction of the familiar ballad from "Maritana," [illegible] Mr. [illegible] was certainly in [illegible] taste and was very well sung. To speak frankly the presentation of this opera last evening, in its entirety, could not be regarded as complete and satisfactory in many respects. The chorus, while strong and full, at times evinced a want of precision which more careful rehearsal will overcome. The orchestra rendered very efficient service, but the acquisition of a few more instruments would add greatly to the general musical effect of the performances.

This evening "Daughter of the Regiment" will be repeated, when it is to be hoped these deficiencies mentioned will be remedied.

OREGON AND TRANS-CONTINENTAL.

Conditions of the Subscription and Times of Payment.

The following is the full text of the circular issued by Mr. H. Villard to the subscribers to the purchasing syndicate or the holders of its certificates:

Referring to my former communications, and to the report of Messrs. Endicott, Pullman and Wesslhoeft, I beg to inform you as follows:

1. That a corporation has been organized under the laws of the state of Oregon, and with the name and title of the Oregon & Trans-continental Company, with a capital of $50,000,000, in 500,000 shares of $100 each, of which, however only 300,000 or 300,000 shares of $100 each, will be for the present issued.

The objects of this new company have been fully explained at the conference just held at my office, where any further desired explanations will be gladly given by me.

2. That by virtue of the authority given me by the terms of subscription to the purchasing syndicate, a contract has been entered into with said company for the acquisition of the securities belonging to the purchasing syndicate. In pursuance of this contract the holder of each purchasing syndicate receipt for $10,000 or his transferee, is entitled to 125 full paid shares of the capital stock of said company. Two and one half shares represent five months' interest on the face of the receipt.

3. That in order to provide the means of liquidating the deficiency arising from the difference between the cost of the securities purchased for the purchasing syndicate and the $8,000,000 actually paid in, the holder of each purchasing syndicate receipt for $10,000, or his transferee, has the prior right and is invited to subscribe $12,500, upon payment whereof in the manner herein provided, he will be entitled to receive 125 shares of like stock; this representing the proportionate amount of such deficiency. The right to subscribe expires July 6.

Both as an original subscriber to the purchasing syndicate, and as a subscriber for the additional amount last named, you are entitled to a proportionate interest in the profits to arise from the acquisition of the stocks and bonds of various railroad corporations subsidiary to the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, to the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company, and to the Oregon & California Railroad Company, in Minnesota, Dakota, Montana, Washington territory, Oregon and California. You will be informed hereafter, by circular, of the precise nature and extent of these profits.

A cash payment of only 15 per cent. of the said amount will be required on July 6. The remaining 85 per cent. will be called as follows: 10 per cent. August 1, 10 per cent. September 1, 10 per cent. October 1, 15 per cent. December 1, 20 per cent. February 1 and 20 per cent. April 1.

Temporary certificates, signed by myself and countersigned by the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, representing the shares and rights to which you are entitled under the foregoing, will be delivered on and after July 1 upon surrender of the purchasing syndicate receipts now held by you.

Regular stock certificates will be delivered as soon as they can be furnished by the American Bank Note Company.

Separate receipts in the usual form will be given for the first two installments as paid, full-paid stock certificates for all subsequent installments as paid, and full-paid stock certificates for the first two installments on final payment.

The Northern Pacific Route.

MISSOULA, Mont., July 22.—Thos. F. Oakes, vice president of the Northern Pacific railroad company, and party, arrived here this afternoon, eight days from Walla Walla. Mr. Oakes is much pleased with the route over which he has passed, having found the country better and the route more favorable than he expected. The highest altitude passed over in that does not exceed 4,000 feet, and in his opinion the grade will exceed 100 feet to the mile, and that only in a few instances. The route followed was up the valley of Clark's river from where it enters Lake Pend d'Oreille, and for the entire distance the country is well watered, finely timbered and covered with excellent grass. The riding animals will be left here and the party will proceed eastward by ambulance.

SOMEWHAT AMUSING.

The New York Tribune gives this short history of the word stalwart: "Blaine invented it; Conkling appropriated it; Allison spoiled it."

There are five women to every man in Holyoke, Mass., and a fellow who started to open an ice-cream saloon not long ago was waited upon by a deputation of desperate men who persuaded him to leave.

"I am waiting my darling, for thee," he warbled, and yet when the old man threw up a chamber window and assured him that "she'd be down in a minute," he lost his grip on the melody and went out of the melody business.

Queen Victoria has been presented with a golden ax by the Ashantees. The story about George Washington and his hatchet has evidently just reached Africa, and Victoria's faithful subjects do not propose that she shall get left.

From the fact that the leading editorial in the Boston Advertiser of last Saturday was entitled "Vital Questions at Yale College," it looks as though there was talk of disbanding the ball and boating clubs of that institution.

Mr. Lewis Potter, one of the directors of the Glasgow bank, which failed in 1878, died recently of shame and grief over the disgraceful ending of that institution. In America it is the depositors of broken banks who die—the officers only move to Canada.

Mr. Tennyson is reported to have got great profit from his play of "The Cup," and to be very much pleased with its success. He was deeply hurt, it is added, at finding that many lines were cut out. He remonstrated with Mr. Irving, who responded, "Well, you know we have to cut down Shakespeare." And Mr. Tennyson was silent thereafter.

Canadians are commenting upon the fact that the late dispatch sent by the Princess Louise to the Marquis of Lorne was signed "Princess Louise" instead of "Louise," according to her former custom. Pretty soon we shall probably hear about Lorne going over to England and filling some dry-goods clerk full of backalbit. American customs are spreading.

It was a youth of modest purse
Said soft unto a maid,
"Which would you rather tackle next,
Ice cream or lemonade?"

Across the maiden's rosy cheek
Fast flits a winning smile;
"I'll order some of both," she said.
Heaven help the young man's "pile."

When the latter found strength to look he found the horse just floundering up on its feet, and, finding it all right, he drove on down the valley. It was a narrow escape. He was not able to give evidence of the lightning having struck anything near him.

On Sunday last the two-year old child of Mr. Hubbard at Prairie City suddenly disappeared and could not be found. The whole neighborhood turned out to assist the nearly frantic parents in searching for the lost one, but not until Tuesday were their efforts crowned with success, when the body of the little one was found in the John Day, a mile below town. It seems that he fell into a ditch that runs close by the house and was thus swept into the river and drowned.

The piles have been driven and capped for Yesler's new mill. The engines used in the old mill are being fitted up at the North Pacific Iron Works to propel the machinery in the new. Two of the boilers that went through the fire are being thoroughly overhauled. One of these boilers has been in almost constant use for over twenty years, and appears to be good for twenty years more. One of the old boilers is not worth fixing, and in order to furnish the required steam it will be necessary to have a new boiler built. A word or two may clear up a confusion of terms manifest in this discussion. The laws of the state took the qualifications of voters, and prescribe the conditions on which their right to vote is forfeited. A conviction of any crime in a United States court is not by law such forfeiture and hence there is no ground for calling the attention of a United States grand jury to the fact of persons voting who have been so convicted. We may therefore assume that if it was intended that such cases should come before a court of the United States, the law of the United States had been violated by the voting of persons who are prohibited from voting by the laws of the state.

A CARD.

SALEM, July 27, 1881.

From the fact of the recent illness of my family at Paxton Mineral Springs has given credence to the rumor that scarlet fever and diphtheria are prevalent in that locality, and many are thus deterred from availing themselves of the privileges of that popular place of resort, I deem it but just to make the following statement of facts:

The first member of my family taken down was sick when we arrived there, the seeds of disease being already imbedded in his system, of which fact we were unaware, and it had been thus communicated to the others, although in a modified form. Thanks, however, to the unremitting attention of Dr. Paxton, and the bracing mountain air, they are now rapidly convalescing, and all danger is apparently past. Strict precautions were taken to avoid contagion, and no further cases have thus far been developed, and it is generally conceded that no danger need be apprehended by families visiting the springs at the present time. I cheerfully take this method of correcting any false impressions that may be afloat respecting the healthfulness of that picturesque and pleasant place of resort.

DRY GOODS, CLOTHING,

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH IS OVER.
Business is quiet all over the city;
but ISAAC BARMAN don't feel the effect of it.

THE REASONS ARE:

That he still continues to sell the immense stock of Clothing and Gent's Furnishing Goods, which he bought of Mr. A. MEYER at such very low figures, at prices that will astonish the closest buyer.

That his entire stock must be sold on or before the 1st day of September, in order to make room for his immense fall stock.

That he is offering Great Bargains, having reduced—

Suits from $15 00 to $10 00
Suits from $17 50 to $12 50
Suits from $20 00 to $15 00
Suits from $22 50 to $17 50
Suits from $25 00 to $20 00

That he is offering his entire stock of Furnishing Goods at 75 cents on the dollar.

That he has marked down his entire stock of Scarfs and Ties at 50 cents on the dollar.

That he is compelled to raise money, and he will not let up, until he has it.

Make use of the opportunity before it is too late.

PENNSYLVANIA POLITICS.

Cameron not in Sympathy with Conkling—Candidates for the State Treasurership.

PHILADELPHIA, July 12. The development of the political situation in the state this year is slow. It has, however, some interesting features lying just beneath the surface, and these are tolerably certain to be disclosed when active work once begins. The strong and scarcely controlled Blaine movement—so called—of 1880, and the very serious break in the legislature that defeated Mr. Oliver and Gen. Beaver, represented forces in the party that are vigorous and determined to press further their advantage. It may be said, candidly, that this is simply an "independent" or anti-Cameron movement. It represents that large, if not preponderating, element in the party which is opposed to the control so powerfully exercised by Senator Cameron and his lieutenants—Mackey, Kemble and Quay—in the last ten years. Mr. Mackey is dead, and Mr. Kemble is devoted to his private affairs, but Col. Quay remains the staunch and energetic supporter of Mr. Cameron, and with Mr. C. L. Magee, a young but skillful politician, to direct affairs in Pittsburg, it remains a very powerful combination.

When Mr. Oliver failed of an election, and Mr. Mitchell was chosen senator by a compromise between the two wings of the party, it was said with one accord that this put an end to the "machine control," and that thereafter a new regime was certain to be established. How true this was and is remains to be seen. Some signs of such a change are apparent, and others lie but slightly concealed. On the other hand the Cameron wing of the party is a trained, steady and not easily beaten political force. The senator himself does not mean to lose his hold, and there are many active and earnest party workers in all parts of the state who are devotedly attached to him and to the traditions and associations which he represents personally and as the son of his father. Mr. Cameron, though he stood closely united to Mr. Conkling in the preliminary movements of 1880, and at the Chicago convention, has not followed the New York ex-senator in the extreme courses which he has seen fit to adopt since the 4th of March, and he is much less bitterly opposed here than Mr. Conkling in New York. He was obliged, indeed, by the obvious necessities of the case, to restrain himself when the New York senators resigned from either following or supporting them in any open or positive manner. He could have done nothing in Pennsylvania. On the contrary, he must inevitably have lost all his prestige and control by adopting the course of Mr. Conkling as against the administration, and nothing would have been more cheerfully welcomed by the leaders of the independent wing of the party than a trial of strength in which they should represent the administration and Senator Cameron should carry the banner of Mr. Conkling and represent the assault which Mr. Conkling was making upon it. In such a contest the majority against Mr. Cameron would have been overwhelming, and would have sealed beyond any doubt the warrant of his complete overthrow.

For the campaign of the present year preparations must shortly begin. The state convention, postponed to a date so late—though quite early enough—that there will be but a brief canvass of sixty-nine days, will meet at Harrisburg on Thursday, the 8th of September. Its only business, besides adopting a platform, will be to nominate a candidate for state treasurer. Under the constitution, no person is eligible as treasurer for two consecutive terms, and the present incumbent, the Hon. Samuel Butler of Chester county, who was elected in 1879 by a majority approaching 60,000, and who has made an excellent officer, is, therefore, barred out.

PROHIBITION IN KANSAS.

The Governor of the State Writes a Letter, in which he says the Law works well—Except in Places where People are Disposed to Drink.

The following is sent THE OREGONIAN by a friend with a request to publish:

TOPEKA, Kansas, June 10, 1881.

Miss Auretta Hoyt—Your letter of the 6th inst. has just been received. There is scarcely a word of truth in the newspaper clipping enclosed to me. The rum power of this country is concentrating its efforts now against prohibition in Kansas; as well also to defeat a like measure now pending before the people of your state. Thousands of dollars are being expended every week in the interest of free whisky, and to retard as far as possible the work of the friends of temperance. It is impossible for any one to answer the many falsehoods that are instigated, published and circulated by the whisky ring. In fact, while we are refuting one lie, a dozen others are promptly put in circulation. Really, falsehood is the only stock in trade the whisky ring has with which to combat the hosts of temperance workers who are moving on steadily and surely to a grand victory.

Prohibition in Kansas, with the exception of two or three of the larger towns of the state, is a grand success. It is safe to say that in at least nineteen-twentieths of the state our law is honestly obeyed, and prohibition is absolute. There have been numerous violations of the law in Atchison, Leavenworth and Topeka, and the liquor interests rejoice over the fact, and send out flaming telegrams over the country that the law is defiantly trampled under foot, but not a word is ever said about the hundreds of towns and rural districts through the state, where the people are honestly obeying and enforcing it the same as they would any other law. Take even the city of Topeka, where it is boasted by the whisky ring that the law is daily violated, and we find that during April, the last month under the old license system, between forty and fifty persons were before the court for drunkenness, against not more than one-eighth of that number during May, the first month of prohibition.

Parsons, a city of nearly five thousand population, I am informed, has not had a single case of drunkenness since the prohibitory law took effect, May 1. In fact a hundred other towns might be named, which would present as honorable a record, and yet many of the leading dailies of the country—which, by the way, in my opinion are under the control of the whisky ring—persist in declaring prohibition a failure. It is a little singular, that in one sentence the rum power asserts that prohibition in Kansas is depopulating the state and ruining business, and that you cannot even buy whisky to cure a snake bite, while in the very next sentence it declares that prohibition does not prohibit, and that more whisky is sold than ever before.

You need have no fear about the result of the measure here. Our people are in earnest. We feel that our cause is just, and we propose to take no steps backward, but shall move forward with a determination to do our whole duty, and have no doubt but that GOD will give us victory. Very truly your friend,

JOHN P. ST. JOHN.

Making Things Over.

[Detroit Free Press.]

"Maria," said Mr. Jones, upon one of his worrying days, "it seems to me you might be more economical; now, there's my old clothes; why can't you make them over for the children, instead of giving them away."

"Because they're worn out when you're done with them," answered Mrs. Jones. "It's no use making over things for the children that won't hold together; you couldn't do it yourself smart as you are."

"Well," grumbled Jones, "I wouldn't have closets full of things mildewing for want of wear, if I was a woman, that's all. A penny saved is a penny earned."

That was in April. One warm day in May Mr. Jones went prancing through the closets looking for something he couldn't find, and turning things generally inside out.

"Maria," he screamed, "where's my gray alpaca duster?"

"Made it over for Johnny."

"Ahem! Well, where's the brown linen one I bought last summer?"

"Clothes-bag!" mumbled Mrs. Jones, who seemed to have a difficulty in her speech at that moment. "Just made it into a nice one!"

"Where are my lavender pants?" yelled Jones.

"Cut them over for Willie."

"Heavens!" groaned her husband; then in a voice of thunder; "Where have my blue suspenders gone to?"

"Hung the baby-jumper with them."

"Maria!" asked the astonished man in a subdued voice, "would you mind telling me what you have done with my silk hat; you haven't made it over for the baby, have you?"

"Oh! no dear," answered his wife cheerfully. "I've used that for a hanging basket. It is full of plants and looks lovely."

Mr. Jones never mentions the word economy or suggests making over—he has had enough of it.

Mrs. Garfield's Influence over her Husband.

"Johnny Boquet" has the following in his last contribution to the Tribune:

Major Bundy, who wrote one of the campaign lives of him, told me this fresh story yesterday:

"While I was staying at Mentor, just one year ago, Garfield drove out on fourth of July afternoon, taking along his wife and Mrs. Rockwell. The latter had been run away with a short time before and made very nervous. Garfield had a large country carriage built strong. He drove a pair of young horses only broken a few weeks before, nervous and all but dangerous. I had a good opportunity to see the quiet, effective influence of Mrs. Garfield over him. Two common fellows, driving a buggy with a pretty good horse, evidently knowing who he was, began to annoy him. The state road was wide enough for half a dozen teams to pass, but those fellows would get directly before the carriage and come nearly to a walk, and keep us back for a mile or two, till Garfield would try to pass, and then they would speed their horse and have a race. The wild young animals Garfield drove fairly standing up in the air. The thing was repeated till it was perfectly clear they meant to irritate and annoy the general (probably from political malice). At length I saw him worked up. I could feel him losing his temper, and I think he can get as mad, when he does get mad at all, as any man I ever saw. He said to me in a low tone, 'Now I am going to take a wheel off.' At that instant Mrs. Garfield leaned forward and said, 'No James, you are not!' 'Yes, I am,' said Garfield. 'James, you are not going to do it.' In a minute he nodded in a sort of under her tone, and turned his horses the other way."

THE MEXICAN HORROR.

Details of the Awful Accident on the Morelos Railway—How it was Caused—The Authors Imprison.

(Correspondence New York World.)

As the telegraph has already told you, a horrible accident has occurred on the Morelos railroad near Cuautla. This route had been inaugurated, with unusual pomp and ceremony, only three days before the disaster. The president, vice-president, and highest government officials went by invitation of the company to the terminus, at the town of Cuautla, and partook of a banquet which had been prepared in the old monastery of San Diego. In order to honor the distinguished party (for in these peaceful times protection is not required), General Pacheco, governor of the federal district, sent out 300 soldiers under the command of two officers. As the railroad company had not a sufficient number of cars to accommodate the multitude of people who went to Cuautla, only 160 soldiers returned to Mexico on the 20th, and on the 24th instant a train was made up consisting of first a passenger car for the officers and passengers; secondly, five platform-cars (such as are termed flats in the United States,) and in those were placed 160 soldiers and 37 "Soldaderas" (wives who are by law permitted to accompany the troops to cook and wash for them); thirdly, a sixth platform-car laden with eighty barrels of alcohol; fourthly, another car filled with lime; at the rear was a second locomotive. This train left Cuautla at 6:30 o'clock in the evening. In the course of half an hour a terrible thunder-storm commenced, but as this is the "rainy season," it excited no attention. The soldiers only drew their cloaks more closely about them and the ever patient Soldaderas crouched down, covering their heads with their serapes and rebosas, more from dread of the vivid flashes of lightning than fear of the cold rain.

About 9 o'clock P. M. the engineer of the forward engine said to the lieutenant-colonel in command the troops: "As the route is new I fear the roadbed may be washed out in some places by this heavy rain, and the temporary wooden bridges may be unsafe. We had better return to Cuautla and wait until morning." The colonel replied: "I have received orders to report in Mexico City early to-morrow morning; you must go on."

The engineer then proceeded slowly and cautiously. When within a few yards of a new bridge, called "Juan Antonio," which spanned a barranca (a deep ravine) in the Malpais, he stopped and got off the engine for the purpose of examining the bridge, although it was supported by stone piers. The colonel commanding immediately sprang from his car and demanded to know why the train had been stopped. The engineer again expressed his fears of the recently constructed bridges.

The soldiers, who had heard the former conversation between their commander and the engineer, seemed to be panic stricken, and commenced jumping from the platform cars. The officers, dreading a complete desertion, tried to allay their fears, but quite a number escaped under cover of the Cimmerian darkness. At length, however, order was restored, and the men seated themselves in sullen silence, the Soldaderas calling on the "Virgin Mother" for protection and cowering down again in the cars.

Then the lieutenant-colonel, placing his pistol near the engineer's head and ordering two subaltern officers to take charge of the two firemen, mounted the engine with the engineer, and, repeating "I'll blow your brains out if you stop again," compelled the poor fellow to put the train in motion. No guard had been stationed at the bridge, nor had even a lamp been placed there; the heavy freshet had brought down the debris which had pressed against the two piers and carried them off; the headlight of the engine shone only upon the rails, which remained, and the engineer being unable to see that these steel threads were unsupported, the train instantly plunged into the abyss, precipitating its human freight into the foaming water. The ravine being narrow, the cars were piled on each other, crushing and mashing all. Then the 80 barrels of alcohol rolled out, many breaking open as they fell; next the lime poured over the victims, and finally came an additional horror. As the rear engine was dragged into the ravine its live coals fired the alcohol, and in a few seconds this agonizing mass of humanity was enveloped in flames. Imagine their sufferings.

A gentleman who escaped from the wreck of the first car said to me last night: "Dante's description of hell conveys but a faint idea of the horrors I witnessed. The thunder-peals seemed to me like the voice of an inexorable fate. The tortures of that doomed mass of human beings were made so hideous, first by the flames of the alcohol and afterwards by the flashes of lightning, that my soul sickened. I managed to clamber up the sides of the ravine, and could only pray 'Christ, pity them,' and then I fainted."

The accident occurred fifteen miles from Cuautla, in a dreary place, far from any human habitation, and as the storm had prostrated the telegraph wires there were no means of communication with this city or any other town; therefore the victims remained several hours without aid. The list of the dead, so far as officially known, is 10? soldiers, 26 soldaderas, three officers, four passengers, five children, two firemen of the first engine and the engineer of the rear locomotive. The wounded number 6?. Strangely enough, the engineer of the first locomotive and the lieutenant-colonel, who were the first to plunge into the ravine, are both saved and neither is seriously wounded. They are both to-day in prison.

A Hindostanee Salamander.

The ability to "stand fire" has always been considered a genuine test of the amount of "sand" in an American's constitution. But tested by this trial all the heroes of the revolver and the "fire-eaters" generally, must "pale their ineffectual fires" before this Hindostanee salamander:

There is a fakir at Lucknow about whose miraculous doings the native papers tell the most astounding stories. His latest exploit was to sit "cool, quiet and perfectly unconcerned" close alongside of an enormous fire. The heat was so great that the crowd of spectators could not approach within 200 yards of the blazing mass, which was composed of eleven cart-loads of highly combustible material. The native scribe who chronicles the feat, asserts that the fakir remained "in this interesting position" for four hours without taking the slightest harm. Of course, the fame of the devotee spread abroad like wildfire, and from all parts of Lucknow came pious Hindoos bringing offerings to the incombustible saint. So great at last became the concourse of pilgrims that a detachment of police had to be stationed on the spot. How the trick was managed remains to be shown. It seems established that some occurrence of that sort described really did take place.

The following remark by Minister Lowell, in a speech at London, will bear repeating: "I must acknowledge that the interviewer is frequently useful, and that he enables public men out of power to make speeches from which they would otherwise be precluded."

"HUB PUNCH,"

TO TOP OFF A DINNER,

May be Drank Clear, as a Cordial.

For a dinner thoroughly appointed, the good old way was to wash down the last triumphs of the feast with copious libations of rich, rare and curious old Port and Golden Sherry; but "HUB PUNCH" has added a new sensation to the epicure. Its delicacy, aroma, flavor, and delicious, but gentle effects, proclaim it the nectar fit for the gods banqueting on Olympus.

Mix HUB PUNCH with Ice Water, Cold Tea, Lemonade, or Soda. It is unanimously pronounced unrivalled.

TESTIMONIALS.

"A sip is like nectar."—Boston Courier.

"Delicious beyond description."—Boston Transcript.

"Add it to the good things of the table to enlarge the pleasures of life and encourage good fellowship and good nature if rightly enjoyed."—Springfield Republican.

"Invaluable for a little treat when a friend drops in."—New York Evening Post.

"It is a great trouble to make Punch, and many people lack the savoir faire to brew it. Hub Punch is indispensable wherever known."—Spirit of the Times, N. Y.

"The increasing popularity of Hub Punch is pleasant testimony to your success in using the best and purest components." PARK & TILFORD, New York.

"Our success in selling Hub Punch has surprised us, we having sold within the past three months a larger quantity than we anticipated selling in twelve." SMITH & VANDERBEEK, New York and Chicago.

[illegible] is a blood purifier and tonic. Impurity of blood poisons the system, deranges the circulation, and thus induces many disorders, known by different names to distinguish them according to effects, but being really branches or phases of that great generic disorder, Impurity of Blood. Such are Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Nervous Disorders, Headache, Backache, General Weakness, Heart Disease, Dropsy, Kidney Disease, Piles, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Skin Disorders, Pimples, Ulcers, Swellings, &c., &c. King of the Blood prevents and cures these by attacking the cause, Impurity of the Blood. Chemists and physicians agree in calling it "the most genuine and efficient preparation for the purpose." Sold by Druggists, $1 per bottle. See testimonials, directions, &c., in pamphlet, "Treatise on Diseases of the Blood," wrapped around each bottle.

THE GENUINE

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

SAWS.

QUALITY.

E. C. ATKINS & CO., Indianapolis,

MANUFACTURERS.

KIRK SHELDON, Sole Agent.

FACTS.

The "ATKINS" Champion pattern crosscut saw is the best that that is retailed for 50c per foot in Portland, on the Pacific coast. "OUR THIN BACK" ATKINS, at 60c per foot, is warranted to beat any other CHAMPION pattern. The ATKINS "[illegible]" pattern at 60c of same quality as last named, outs saws by demanding a very deeply gummed saw. The ATKINS genuine "Diamond" everybody knows (or ought to) is worth $1 25 per foot. "Imitation Diamond," called Diamond Tooth, sells for 70c per foot; ATKINS, of last named, is the best in market. The Silver Steel DIAMOND CHAMPION, made to my order and cut to ends, at 80c per foot, is the very best saw that is now manufactured for general use. This blade is same shape and quality as the genuine DIAMOND with the Champion teeth.

NEXT. The UNION CHAMPION, made by ATKINS & CO. to my special order, is for very large timber only, is of No. 11 gauge, "and of SILVER STEEL, Champion pattern. A 7-foot saw weighs [illegible] pounds.

I believe that I now have in stock the LARGEST and BEST stock of crosscut saws, from four to 8 feet lengths, that ever arrived on this coast, that are particularly suited to [illegible] and SPRUCE timber. [illegible]

ATKINS saws are now the popular saws for our Fir Timber, and the buyers [illegible] standard of quality [illegible].

E. C. ATKINS & CO.,

INDIANAPOLIS.

Are the chief makers [illegible] of CIRCULAR Saws, particularly for large sizes, from 10 to 72 inch. Any particular gauge or style will be made to order and furnished to the consumer [illegible].

FOURTH ANNUAL VICTORY

For D. M. Osborne & Co. Harvesting Machinery at the Oregon State Fair for 1881.

SALEM, OR., July 1?, 1881.

This certifies that D. M. Osborne & Co. was awarded first premiums on their Twine Binding Harvester, No. Six Combined Reaper and Mower, No. Three Iron Reaper, No. Two Front Cut Mower, and No. Five Rear Cut Mower at the Fair of 1881.

E. M. WAITE, Sec'y.

The above speaks for itself. The competition was between the "Osborne" and "Woods" Twine Binders. The McCormick and Marsh-Deering acknowledged defeat and did not enter for premiums; but found time to exhibit on the Fair Grounds, but attracted no attention whatever. The Osborne was put to a very severe test, elevating and binding green wheat, successfully repeating the operation to the committee's expressed perfect satisfaction. The defeat of the Woods binder was total and hardly [illegible], but the following from Mr. H. A. Davis, of Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, is a much grander victory for the Osborne.

HARRISBURG, OR., July 16, 1881.

Messrs. D. M. Osborne & Co., Portland, Or.: Gentlemen: After two days' hard labor and extreme vexation with a Woods Twine Binder, having the assistance of an expert, I have failed to make it go. To-day I concluded to try an Osborne, and am happy to say that from its entrance into the grain up to this writing it has not failed for one moment to do perfect work, reaping, binding and elevating. And to have the readers at my order and to [illegible] with one of your machines, as I consider them the best and only one [illegible] which we farmers can fully depend. My men will all cheerfully sign with me [illegible] to the Osborne.

ALL CHRONIC & DIFFICULT DISEASES.

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

such as SPERMATORRHŒA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a quiet delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organizations broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored. Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.
